(ii) The managements may also be permitted to divert a part of the general surplus funds of the Schools, towards the creation of the endowment referred to.

(iii) After the full endowment has been thus built up, the Director in his discretion may permit a management to withdraw from the fund such sums as may be needed urgently for the purpose of the school, provided the management satisfies the Director that such withdrawal is necessary for expenditure concerning the School, and undertakes to replace the amounts thus withdrawn in easy instalments within a specified time.

(iv) In cases where the Director is not satisfied about the financial stability of a management which proposes to open a new Secondary School, the endowment will be insisted upon in full or in instalments larger than Rs.1,100/- a year according to the merits of each case.

3. The Director is informed that the instalments fixed by him under these orders may be made as easy as can safely be done and that, while his orders relating to these endowments may be ordinarily final, the Government will have no objection to considering representations or memorials received by them in the matter, in special cases.
